

PricewaterhouseCoopers

THE BUZZ

- “Work on your teamwork and leadership skills”
- “PwC is ranked the No. 1 place to start a career”
- “The company treats you like royalty as an intern”

THE STATS

Industries: Financial Services, Professional Services

Location(s): New York, NY (HQ); offices across North America and in 149 countries worldwide

Number of interns: Varies

Pay: Paid, competitive salary

Length of internship: Typically 10 to 12 weeks

Intern function(s): Tax, Audit, Advisory

THE SCOOP

PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) is the world's largest professional services firm, employing over 140,000 people in 149 countries. PwC maintains 22 industry-specialized practices. The firm offers specialized service across three lines: assurance, advisory and tax, and private company services. In the U.S., PwC operates as PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, and is the country's sixth-largest privately owned organization. PwC places enormous importance on its internship program.

ON THE JOB

This program utilizes case studies, practice exercises, communication modules and technology-enabled study during training. Once training is complete, interns become active members of a client engagement team, serving diverse clients and developing optimal strategies for those clients. Interns can rotate between departments or stay in one department for the duration of the program. At the conclusion of the PwC internship, interns have the opportunity to attend the firm's intern development program (IDP) held at Walt Disney World, with hundreds of PwC interns from across the Americas. IDP supplements the on-the-job training the interns receive with significant interaction with PwC partners and staff, dynamic external speakers and a world-class curriculum in a “living classroom” that demonstrates the values and business strategies of PwC.

GETTING HIRED

Apply by: Winter: recruitment January to March; Summer: recruitment June to August.

Qualifications:

Open to undergraduate sophomores, juniors and seniors

Contact:

www.pwc.com/internships

www.pwc.com/apply