Graduate Opportunities

The world might not know your name. Yet. But we will. All of us, from partner to trainee. Perhaps more importantly, you'll know theirs, whatever their level. That may not sound like a lot. But think about it. It's symptomatic of our lack of hierarchy.

It's demonstrative of a culture built on trust. It's about being in it together. And believe us, you won't find an environment like that in every major City law firm – whether that city is London, Moscow, Paris, or Dubai, for example.
